Brown Swamps Amherst.
Brown overwhelmed the Amherst football team Saturday, winning by a score of 60 to 0. The home team outplayed the visitors in every department of the game and made the team that whipped it last year by a 7 to 0 score look like a bunch of novices.

Straight line punting and runs and daring forward passes kept the visiting players on the hop, and they were totally unable to stop the onslaught.

In the first period Brown rolled up 27 points, pushing over four touchdowns in quick order on line punting by Devittella, Pollard and Purdy and end runs by Pollard and Purdy. Most of the plays were around the ends, the Amherst players in these positions being notably weak.

Battled To A Tie.
Homer Hazel's toe, Foster Sanford's new multiple kick and the presence of the Rutgers team that played the first intercollegiate game in this country, against Yale, in 1870, stood between Washington and Lee and victory Saturday at New Brunswick, N. J.

The crippled Rutgers team was outclassed in the first half by its heavier opponents. After Rutgers had got off to a fast start and gone to within twenty-five yards of the goal, a long penalty stopped them, and the Southemets sprung a big surprise by rushing for a touchdown.

N. F. A. WINS IN FINAL QUARTER

Windham Sent Scare Into Academy With Their Surprising Skill. Score 13 to 0—N. F. A. Rushed Willimantic Off Their Feet in Last Quarter.

Windham High sent up a scare Saturday by holding the Academy scoreless until the final quarter when the red and white players crossed the coveted chalk lines twice. Although the Windham boys plugged through the N. F. A. defense with apparent ease they were unable to plant the oval behind the goal posts, an ambition which many a team from the Thread City has desired to do but died in the attempts.

The Academy were lacking in pep in the early stages of the game and not until the shadows of the afternoon were falling did they realize that the upstart boys were putting in a strong bid for victory and a possible chance of being held scoreless. But nevertheless, the Academy entered the final frame with renewed vigor and peppered the visitors off their feet and dazzled them with open play work. The lineup:

N. F. A. Left End Donahue
Left Guard
Center Tighe
Right Guard
Right Tackle Costello
Right End Young
Quarterback Garco
Left Half Back King
Right Half Back Pickett, Capt.
Fullback Tucker

TIGERS HAVE NEAR CALL.
Tibbott's Toe Saved Princeton from Defeat by Tufts.
A drop kick from the 46 yard line, with just five minutes of play left, won for Princeton Saturday afternoon, just when it seemed certain that the shifty Tufts eleven would hold the Tigers to a deadlock. The score was Princeton 3, Tufts 0.

Dave Tibbott, who went in during the third period to replace Eberhardt at right half, was the favorite son of Old Nassau Saturday night. But for that drop kick, the boys from Medford would have held the Princeton eleven to a scoreless tie.

It was a beautiful kick, that boot of Tibbott's. When the Tigers formed for the kick formation he was standing on the 45 yard line and directly opposite the goal posts. As the ball was snapped back he moved a pace backward, coolly selecting the place to drop the ball.

The Tufts linemen tore savagely at the Princeton front rank, but the Black and Orange advance guard held like a wall. One end was just scurrying through when Tibbott dropped the ball and shot it forward. Then he stepped aside to dodge the charge. He did not look toward the ball. He was certain of his work.

The flying leather oval described a beautiful arc, sailing directly between the posts and about five feet over the crossbar. The bleachers were so silent that the thump could be heard as the ball hit the grass. Then the Princetonians abandoned organized cheering and raised their voices in a disorganized but sincere howl of delight.

Mathematically, then, Princeton today is stronger than Tufts only by the force of Tibbott's boot. The Princeton Tigers came within six yards of scoring, but it was the right foot of Tibbott that won the game, when Princeton's own fumbling and Tufts' fourth down fumble had proved insurmountable obstacles.

YALE ELEVEN SWINGS INTO FINE FORM.
Beats Lehigh 12 to 0—Shows Strong Defensive.

Playing with a snap, dash and drive that brought joy to the hearts of the rooters and a look of concern to the faces of the opponents, the Yale team blanketed the rough and strong Lehigh eleven Saturday afternoon and caused a feeling of genuine satisfaction throughout the entire Blue camp.

Yale eleven has looked so good at this point in the season and the improvement over the play against the Virginians, the week previous, was generally commented upon. Straight football by the home team was the rule practically all of the time, there being plenty of game hard bangs into the line and swift dashes around the ends and on the defense, a lot of clean, sharp tackling.

The only thing to mar the work of the Yale team was rather poor handling of the ball at times, there being no less than half a dozen fumbles, in which Bob Zingham played a great part. The home team was generally commented upon. Straight football by the home team was the rule practically all of the time, there being plenty of game hard bangs into the line and swift dashes around the ends and on the defense, a lot of clean, sharp tackling.

Lehigh lost because it could not get started. Yale presented a fine line Saturday and when the Blue forwards were being pushed back, the Yale players for no gain they were flashing through and throwing the Lehigh runners for losses of from five to ten yards. The Yale defense was very good deal stronger than the Virginians, as it was expected they would be, and also a great deal rougher. But the over-strenuous play of the Yale defense was the cause of the Yale men and only brought the Lehigh men many penalties.

Yale's first tally came a few minutes after the game had started and Yale had received the ball on a punt. Harry Legore took the ball on the first lineup after the kick and streaked his way down the field, clearing the entire Lehigh eleven for 67 yards and a touchdown. It was a particularly brilliant run, thicker after tackle because the runner was clearing everything one man threatening to do any damage to the runner and this occurring a dozen yards from the northwest corner when Harry Legore started and ran. He regained his balance long enough to shoot over the line, however, and didn't go down under the Lehigh attack and he placed the ball almost behind the Brown goalposts.

Gates failed to kick the goal, the wind kicked the ball off to one side of the goal. The other score came in the fourth quarter after Legore had tried a goal from the 45-yard line and it was carried by the Blue runner, who cleared the field, down into the southeast corner. After the ball was brought in on the two-yard mark, a Lehigh punt sent the game into the hands of the Yale defense. From this point Bingham began to pound the Lehigh line and after one gain of nine yards he took a shot at the center and cleared over for a touchdown.

Legore's attempt at the goal was also wide and the ball struck the left-hand goal post and bounded back into the field.

The outstanding feature of the game of course, was Legore's spectacular 67-yard run for the first score, but the game was a beautiful one, a well-played forward pass shot from the hand of Quarterback Russell to Fullback McGinness in the second quarter and which was netted the Yale team 22 yards, but by banding it on the Blue 10-yard line placed the ball the nearest it ever got to the home team's goal.

HARVARD BURIES NORTH CAROLINA.
Casey Played Strong Game—Score 21 to 0.

Harvard's much crippled football team played a fair game against North Carolina Saturday at the stadium, scoring three touchdowns from the Harvard defense and netting a total of 21 points, or eight less than the Princeton Tigers scored against the same team a week ago.

Harvard was missing six of its regular men, but thanks to the wonderful open field running of Eddie Casey, the old Exeter star, and the success of its forward passing game, the Harvard substitutes were able to make things go fast in the first period for 14 points, and later, in the third, with plenty of forward passing, they put down another touchdown by the forward pass route. North Carolina, playing football very similar in conception to Harvard's, never was dangerous, passing the middle of the field only once, and then because they recovered the ball about 40 yards from the Harvard goal after partially blocking a kick.

Harvard showed unmistakably that the drill since the Tufts game has been thorough. The line worked better and although the backs were not of the first string, they ran splendidly. Also the quarterbacks showed keen sense of timing the play, and the other men more open than Harvard usually elects to use some splendid gains were made. Two of the three touchdowns were made in the first period and the other in the third. All resulted from long distance gaining, the Crimson covering no less than 326 yards with its attack from scrimmage and the only 67.

CORNELL 42, WILLIAMS 0.
Ithaca Line of the Strongest—Cornell Used Many Subs.

Ample proof that another great football machine is in the process of building at Cornell was furnished Saturday at Ithaca when the Ithaca team overwhelmed Williams by a score of 42 to 0, within four points of the total piled up against the New England team a year ago.

Cornell scored one touchdown in the first and third periods and two in the second and fourth, respectively. After the varsity had clinched the victory, Dr. Sharpe sent in a large number of substitutes in the second half, and some of the runs of Speed and Brezette of the second string backs were as sensational as those made by the varsity. Shiverick played a fine game for Cornell, running his team with good judgment and making a number of big gains. His runs from kick formation were splendidly executed, one of them netting 50 yards.

Cornell's giant forwards were impressive, hurling back every attempt Williams made to stem the tide. The Purple made three first downs, two of them the result of short forward passes and one against the subs. End play was solid, but showed improvement over Monday.

PENN LOSER HARD GAME.
Quakers Outrushed Swarthmore, But Fumbles Costly.

The Quaker eleven was beaten by Swarthmore Saturday by a score of 6 to 0. It was a hard game to lose, too, for Penn made 14 first downs to Swarthmore's five, and several of the Red and Blue downs were for 15 and 20 yards.

One fumble by Penn and one brilliantly executed fumble pass by Swarthmore in the second period permitted the 600 students and alumni to witness a game that was a real treat. The Garnet to snake dance off Franklin field before the somewhat wondering eyes of the 15,000 other spectators.

At the close of the game Penn was playing Swarthmore off her feet. The Red and Blue men pushed the ball from their own 35 yard line to Swarthmore's 15 yard line. There were only two minutes left for play and three times Penn attempted a forward pass which was missed just upon the Garnet goal line. In addition the Swarthmore men were thrown back for two 10 yard and two 5 yard losses in the final quarter.

But in this case figures do not tell the tale. Swarthmore played a consistent game and was favored in the breaks. Penn's many misplays were costly and the brace came too late.

Until many games there was no exodus of spectators until the final whistle. Facing certain defeat, if ordinary plays were used, Penn unrolled its final plan for everything she knew. Nine forward passes and a quarterback kick were mingled with brilliant rushing.

Columbia Won.
Columbia University's football eleven triumphed over the University of Vermont on the gridiron at South Field, Ithaca, Saturday afternoon. The Blue and White scored one touchdown early in the third quarter, and while Cochran missed his attempt at the goal, the margin was sufficient. The final score was 6 to 0.

The students of football gloried in the fighting spirit of Columbia. Of football tactics little was learned. Columbia, however, seized one of the few chances to score, and restored to the forward pass to bring about the desired result. Another time the Blue and White scored the ball down to the eight-yard line, only to have the boys from the Green Mountains stand like a stone wall and take the ball on downs.
